Twins.

One has got mustache, the other hasn't.

One stammers, the other doesn't.

One believes that custard cream is delicate, wonderful, blonde as a woman; the other loves poetry, poets, and speaks through lyrics.

One is sure that cream puffs are alive, fragile, helpless, the other wants to sell cream puffs to survive.

The confectionary laboratory is their home . a unique world where time stops at four o'clock. Melted chocolate, puff pastry, meringue, russian cakes, arabic fries, wholenut cookies and bavarian cakes: everything has its own life, moves, flies, dances and the night walks along with it.

Twins like Cyrano and Cristiano, that wait for Rossana...

Two confectioners that looks like an apricot when they hug.

They smell of cakes and they love listening to the radio....so music, a lot of music.
